A LANDSLIDE

The Republican Ticket Meets
Universal Approval

The announcement in yesterday's newspapers, both in the reading matter and advertisements, of the names of prominent and most highly respected citizens who have consented, solely in the interests of good government, to lay aside their personal inclinations and assume the duties and responsibilities of citizenship, most earnestly demanded at this time, was received in all parts of the city with great enthusiasm and the assurance of a landslide for this ticket on Tuesday next are overwhelming. The people, regardless of party, reason that when such men as Pender, Adams, Bennett, Duncan and Tilton consent to become candidates to serve our city in important positions, their generous and patriotic impulse should be received by the best and most law-abiding citizens with hearty approval and support. Otherwise, there would be no encouragement for good men to enter into public service at all. The demand has been for such men to go down to City hall, but they have been reluctant to serve, but this year after being urged by hundreds of our best citizens, they have consented to do so.

The people reason that the city is in need of just such business men, that the gradual increase in taxes and the gradual increase of the city debt must be stopped. One of the best known non-partisan business men in this city said, when he read the ticket, "That ticket could never be beaten in Portsmouth." He said, "The morals, as well as the prosperity of Portsmouth, could safely be trusted in their hands." It is certainly a sign of a new awakening to civic duty and an assurance of prosperity and good government for old Portsmouth.

BACK TO THE OLD TOWNMr. Pearson Returns Accompanied by His Wife and Child.

John N. Pearson returned from Montreal this Wednesday morning whither he went in response to a message from the Chief of Police, stating that his nine year old daughter was desirous of returning home. Mr. Pearson not only brought home his daughter, but was accompanied by his wife who eloped some weeks ago with Fred L. Trask.

As the particulars of the elopement are still fresh in the minds of the public—enough said.

POLES WILL BE USED BY CITYContagious Hospital Will Be Connected With Local Lighting Plant.

Somebody is wise enough to see that the expense of $360 to get lights in the Sagamore Hospital is too much and a change has been made to reduce the figures for the work. At the last meeting of the city council on Nov. 21 Councilman Rand for the committee on city lands and buildings, introduced a resolution following a petition from the Board of Health calling for the installation of a telephone and lighting system at this place. He stated that the Rockingham County Light and Power company wanted $20 for the construction of a pole line to the hospital. He recommended instead that a small plant consisting of a gasoline engine and other apparatus be put in including the wiring. The Council voted to have it done with the exception of Councilman Holmes, who voted against the same as he thought it was extravagant. Now the whole thing has been changed. The Board of Health will build the line which is about a half mile from Sagamore avenue at a cost of not more than $150 or $160. Some of the good poles of the Telepost, now being taken down by the city, will be used in building the line.

After the line is ready and the hospital wired it will be connected up with the lines of the Rockingham County Light and Power Company.

PROTOCOL FOR ARMISTICE HAS THREE SIGNERSGreece Remains Off the Document and Relations Are Greatly Strained.

London, Dec. 3.—The protocol arranging an armistice was signed late this evening by the Turkish and Bulgarian delegates, the latter representing also Serbia and Montenegro.

Prior to this, there had been a long sitting of the Turkish council of ministers to consider fresh proposals submitted by the allies.

Apparently the Greek delegate did not sign the protocol. At present nothing is definitely known on this point nor of the terms of the armistice as revised today.

The refusal of Greece to sign the armistice is susceptible of different interpretations. In the first place, as a tacit armistice has been in existence for more than a week already, it is not impossible that the negotiations may have served to bring about an agreement on the general principles of the peace terms much as the speedy arrangement of a peace treaty when the conference meets, as is now expected in London. In this case the fact that Greece is standing out from the armistice protocol would not be of great importance.

In the second place, the Greek abstention may mean a serious split among the allies, arising from jealousies concerning the possession of Salonika and the insistence of the Greeks on the capitulation of Adrianople, Setari and Janina.

Other points which may influence the situation are to be found in the fact that Turkey recently sought to conclude a separate treaty of peace with Greece, that Bulgaria apparently is not unwilling to enter into an alliance with Turkey and that the allies are desirous that Turkey shall enter the Balkan customs league.

There is rumor in Sofia that a suggestion has been made to substitute Rumania for Greece in the Balkan league. It seems clear from the report that Bulgaria will ignore the Greek offer to land an army in Gallipoli peninsula, and to send her fleet to attack the Dardanelles, that the relations between Greece and Bulgaria are greatly strained and that these signs of dissension among the allies leave the situation full of dangerous possibilities.

It is reported that France is trying to persuade Greece to adopt a less unyielding attitude. It is understood that financial pressure and the exhaustion of their forces had much to do with the willingness of Bulgaria and Serbia to conclude peace, and in this respect, Greece, which secured her victories with less expense is better able to continue hostilities.

ORGAN RECITAL

An organ recital will be given at the Unitarian church on Tuesday evening Dec. 10th, at eight o'clock by the well known Boston organist John Herman Loud. The choir of the church will give vocal selections. The church organ was entirely rebuilt last summer and is now a very beautiful modern instrument. Musical people will enjoy hearing it played by Mr. Loud. Price of admission 25 cents. Tickets at Grace's and Montgomery's and at the door.

CONDEMNATION PROCEEDINGS

Next Tuesday morning the December term of the United States District court will open at Portland and there will be a number of important criminal cases to come up as well as a number of civil matters. On the latter there is to be a hearing on condemnation proceedings in the taking of property in Kittery by the government for use of the Kittery navy yard.

SUPERIOR COURT.

Today's session of the superior court has been taken up in hearing the contested will case of Minnehan vs. Kellier, executor of the will of Margaret Dunn of Kingston. The case is expected to consume several days. Kelley & Hatch appear for the plaintiff and John Scammon of Exeter for the defendant.

POLICE GET CARRIE

Carrie Truesdale or Carrie Corson was arrested by the police on a charge of street walking. Carrie hails from Dover and is inclined to put in a lot of her time in this city which has not been for her best interests.

To Every Citizen of Portsmouth Who Has the BEST IN-TERESTS of Our City at Heart:

We have nominated for re-election at our city election on the tenth instant, Mayor Daniel W. Badger, and though his election is assured, we make this appeal to you for your support of our candidate in order that he may receive, if possible, a larger majority than that of last year, because we believe that he stands for all that is necessary to make our city clean and wholesome, and to put an end to some of the unfortunate conditions now existing which have brought a stigma upon its fair name, both at home and abroad.

DENY IT AS WE MAY, SHUT OUR EYES AS WE DO, EXCUSE ALL WE CAN, YET THE FACT STILL REMAINS that nine-tenths of all our people firmly believe that something in our city is terribly wrong, and that this wrong should not be permitted to override and rule all of us by its unfortunate entanglements and its corrupting influences.

Mayor Badger, when a member of the legislature, believed and still believes that the best solution of the intoxicating liquor question is to regulate and license its sale, and in common with other good men of each party he assisted in enacting the present license law. He now believes that this law should be obeyed and enforced, not only that the honest dealer whose business is made legal and who pays a large license fee, should be protected against the illegal sale by persons paying no license fee, but also that the kitchen bar-room, the speak-easy, and the Sunday business should be stamped out and forever ended. He is big enough to know what we all realize, that it is for the best interests of everybody connected with the business—the manufacturer as well as the dealer—that the laws be observed and the business be kept not only legal but as clean and decent as possible, so as to give no offense to the public or create the impression that some of the dealers have no respect for our laws, for the welfare of our city, the opinion of good citizens or the future of the boys and girls growing up in our midst. IT SEEMS STRANGE TO US THAT ONE SINGLE PERSON CAN BE FOUND IN OUR CITY BLIND ENOUGH NOT TO AGREE WITH THE MAYOR UPON THIS QUESTION.

Mayor Badger has been before you for two years in office, fair and fearless, zealous and active, but conservative and sane. He does not seek the office but in answer to the call of many men of all parties, he is willing to give his best attention to its duties for another year, with a good understanding of the needs of our city and a sane and reasonable enforcement of the laws.

He frankly says that he cannot tolerate the idea that any class of citizens should not only be given special dispensation to violate the laws and bring disgrace and shame upon the city, but should also be allowed to assume control of our elections and attempt to corrupt our officials and scoff at the good people of our city who protest against these doings.

And so we appeal to every clean, honorable, and law abiding citizen of this city to re-elect Mayor Badger by such a sweeping majority, that nobody can ever be heard to say that the people of Portsmouth do not believe in morality, clean politics, decent government and the supremacy of the law, and that they will not rise up, regardless of party, to the support of a tried official who will work for these things.

JOHN W. EMERY

Chairman of the Democratic City Committee.

KRAMER HAS TO COME

Rosenthal Witness Resisted Chicago Detectives to No Purpose.

Chicago, Dec. 3.—Samuel Kramer, who is wanted in New York as an alleged accessory after the fact to the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, was arrested here today by Chicago detectives after a desperate resistance in which Kramer was beaten into unconsciousness.

Acting on telegraphic instructions from New York, the detectives found Kramer hiding in a house on the police list on the West Side levee.

Kramer is 23 years old and is known under a number of other names. He was charged with having sheltered "Gyp the Blood" and two companions in his Brooklyn home after the Rosenthal shooting. Kramer was indicted as accessory by a New York grand jury, but escaped from the house of detention.

New York, Dec. 3.—When District Attorney Charles A. Whitman heard of the capture of Samuel Kramer in Chicago tonight, he said the most important point upon which the authorities here would like to question Kramer was whether he was aided in his escape from the house of detention during the Becker-Rosenthal trials while he was being held as a witness. The district attorney said that there is no indictment standing against Kramer. He was arrested in company with "Gyp the Blood" and "Lefty Louie" at the time detectives seized three gunmen in a Brooklyn flat on Sept. 15, and it was alleged at the time that Kramer had assisted them in keeping in hiding.

VALUABLE HINTS FOR HOUSEWIVES

Never allow a cooking utensil to stand and dry before washing. Put cold water in it immediately.

If the small pieces of nutmeg are saved until there are enough to put into the meat grinder, there will be great saving of nutmeg, and also labor.

A delicious Turkish dish can be made from left over roast beef, tomato sauce and rice. Chop the beef and meat together with the rice and tomato in a saucepan, season with pepper and a dash of curry.

French chalk is especially good for cleaning embroidery that is too fragile to be washed with soap and water. The chalk should be made quite hot and sprinkled thickly over the embroidery, which is then rolled up carefully so that the chalk is inside. Allow it to stand in a dark place for a week or two, and then shake out all the chalk. This will leave the embroidery quite fresh.

Insects like neither salt nor alum, and a small quantity sprinkled on the carpet will keep them away.

Lard washed in skimmed milk should not be rinsed in water, but should be rinsed while still damp with the milk.

A good way to serve salad is in tomato shells. Take the skin of the tomato, cut a slice off at the stem and scoop out the core and seeds. Put in refrigerator until wanted.

Tomatoes may be kept until January if gathered just before frost, dried, and placed on straw covered racks in the cellar. Lemons and limes are often kept in brine. An old fashioned household method.

IN COURT AFTER AUTO ACCIDENT

Three persons were hurt early Tuesday morning in a collision between an automobile and a car at the corner of Shawmut avenue and Northampton street, Boston and subsequently Charles A. Folger of 509 Audubon road, Brookline, owner and driver of the auto, was arraigned in the Municipal Court. He had been arrested on a charge of drunkenness. Those injured were Richard Foley of 28 Hudson street and William Sylvester of 204 West Broadway, South oxford, both passengers on the street car, and Miss Mary Saffer of 12 Chestnut street, an occupant of the automobile. All went to their homes after treatment by a physician.

The car was inward-bound in Adams square and the auto crashed into the rear of the car with such force that the car was considerably damaged and the auto was wrecked. Foley and Sylvester were riding on the rear platform. Other passengers were shaken. Folger is thirty years old and formerly resided in this city.

ELIOT

Mrs. McCloud of Kittery Point was the guest of her sister, Miss Marion Cook on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Dixon entertained Rev. and Mrs. Goodwin of Kennebunk over Sunday. Mr. Goodwin filled the pulpit of the Advent church both Sunday morning and evening.

Dr. and Mrs. J. K. P. Rogers of Portland, Me., were in town yesterday called here by the illness of her sister, Miss Laura V. Dame.

The Faith band connected with the M. E. church met last evening with Mrs. Clarence Cole.

The annual sale conducted by the Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. church will be held at the vestry on Thursday afternoon.

Miss Marjorie Fernald of the Vocational School at Springvale, Me., spent the Thanksgiving recess with her parents Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Fernald.

There is a good deal of sickness in town at present.

It is probable that the electric lights will be turned on at the M. E. church on Sunday next. The Congregational church is also equipped with electric lights.

Rev. Mr. Piper of Boston is expected to occupy the pulpit of the Advent church on next Sunday.

Mrs. A. S. Cole of Boston is in town for a few days.

To keep your face clear of pimples from shrinking after removing them from the rods wash the face. Then wash and starch the face, slip in the rods immediately and replace the panel on the door. Care should be observed to pull the face straight, taking down the sides if necessary to stretch the panel. Allow it to dry in position.

For flaky pie crust use Cottolene

Lard soaked pies have caused a world of indigestion, and pies therefore have been wonderfully abused, and in some cases tabooed. When properly made with Cottolene and eaten at suitable times, pies are no more indigestible for a normal person than are many other foods which so far have escaped this criticism.

Cottolene makes light and delicate crust—rich, but not greasy—wholesome, digestible, nutritious.

There is no hog fat in Cottolene. It is a vegetable product—made from purest and choicest cotton oil. It is a product of Nature, and much more wholesome than either butter or lard.

Cottolene is an economical fat. Use one-third less than either lard or butter, and obtain better results.

NO CHANGE IN INAUGURAL PLANS

Washington, Dec. 3.—The proposal for a separation of the taking of the oath of office by President elect Wilson and the inaugural ceremonies has been branded as utterly foolish, by the District Democratic National Committee.

It was pointed out that it would be impossible to obtain enough money for both occasions. The people came here, it was declared, not to witness the great pageant and social features but the historical event of the swearing-in of a President of the United States.

APRONS AND PILLOWS

A girl who has already started on the manufacture of her Christmas presents declares that she is giving only two kinds to all her friends. They are all to be presented with either a heart apron or a dream pillow. "They are not half so sentimental as the sound," says she. "The aprons are cut heart-shaped, with the lobes at the bottom, and the point cut across the fitted into a band. A pattern is easy to cut, a good proportion being eighteen inches across the widest part and eighteen inches long when finished."

"I finish the edges by turning in the material on the right side a quarter inch, and buttonholing over it closely with white or colored silk or mercerized cotton. A rather scant drill of an inch and a half lace is also used, or the chiffon or muslin may have an inch-wide ruche of the same material."

Across the bottom and stretching up ward on the right side I embroider a spray of flowers. Forget-me-nots are attractive; so are apple blossoms. At the left side I put a small heart-shaped pocket, embroidered with a motto-gram."

Miss Alice G. Winters of Newton, Mass., is the guest of Mrs. E. A. Jund of State street.

GOVERNORS IN ANNUAL CONFERENCE

Richmond, Va., Dec. 3.—Perpetuation of the annual Governors' Conference as a permanent organization with the chief aim to obtain rank as a force in moulding public opinion and shaping public policies, was advocated by Governor Norris of Montana today in response to addresses welcoming 19 state executives, to the fifth annual gathering which opened here.

"Much of actual value has been accomplished in previous conferences," Governor Norris said, "but the conferences have not been the potent factor they should have been. No definite position has been taken upon any question and no fixed purpose has been accomplished. There seems to be no need of timidity on the part of Governors. All National questions and policies are intimately related to the states. I am an earnest advocate of an organization permanent in character."

"Under our present system the conferences seem to impress the public as social rather than business gatherings. A vigorous expression of the consensus of opinion upon subjects discussed and considered would counteract this error and inject into the conference a potency and vitality not otherwise possible."

Gov. Mann in his welcoming address touched upon when he termed the need of a uniform divorce law.

Gov. Norris of Montana responded to the welcoming address, and the conference took up details of organization.

The Governors present when the conference was called to order were O'Neal of Alabama, Donaghey of Arkansas, Shafroth of Colorado, Baldwin of Connecticut, Gilchrist of Florida, Browne of Georgia, Hawley of Idaho, Plaisted of Maine, Foss of Massachusetts, Norris of Montana, Oddie of Nevada, Dix of New York, Kitchen of North Carolina, Harmon of Ohio, Blease of South Carolina, Spry of Utah, Mann of Virginia, McGovern of Wisconsin, and Carey of Wyoming. As many more were expected to reach Richmond during the day.

Plans for placing the conference on a permanent basis have already been drawn up, Gov. McGovern announced and will be submitted for ratification tomorrow.

Woman suffrage caused a close vote early in the conference. By 9 to 8 it was decided to have the arrangements committee decide whether Dr. Anna Shaw should address the conference Thursday afternoon. Governor Harmon acting chairman, cast the deciding ballot in favor of having the committee decide.

MAJESTIC THEATRE.

"The Most Ambitious Shakespearean production of modern times, William Faversham's all star cast revival of Shakespeare's great political tragedy, Julius Caesar, to be the attraction at the Majestic Theatre for two weeks, beginning Monday, Dec. 9."

William Faversham's spectacular production of Shakespeare's Julius Caesar, with an all star cast, is announced as the attraction at Majestic Theatre for two weeks, beginning Monday, Dec. 9. Prominent in the enacting of the ever popular drama of Cæsarian days will be Mr. Faversham, Tyrone Power, Frank Keenan, Fuller Mellich, Julie Opp, Lionel Belmont, Arthur Elliot, Berton Churchill and more than 200 other experienced Shakespearean actors. Not during the present generation has there been gathered together such a remarkable permanent organization for the presentation of any Shakespearean or classical offering. Mr. Faversham is universally recognized as the foremost actor manager upon the American stage, and his sterling impersonations in "The Square Man," "Herod," "The World and His Wife" and "The Funn" have won for him a wide and loyal following. His production of "Julius Caesar," in which he plays Antony, is the first of a series of Shakespearean presentations planned by Mr. Faversham. The Brutus of the cast is Tyrone Power, whose memorable interpretations in "The Servant in the House," in which he created the part of the Dralman, in "Mary of Magdala," and in "Thals," stamped him as one of the most powerful actors upon the American stage. Frank Keenan, whose inimitable Sheriff in "The Girl of the Golden West" and Gen. Warren in "The Warrens of Virginia" brought him lasting fame, is Cassius, a role which suits his talents superbly. Fuller Mellich, one of the most versatile actors upon the English speaking stage, who won immense plaudits by his acting in the all-star revival of "Oliver Twist" last season, acts Caesar. Julie Opp, who in private life is Mrs. Faversham, and who has created in the leading female roles in all her husband's recent successes, appears as Portia in "Julius Caesar."

NEW WRAP COATS

A most admirable fur lining to a comfortable winter wrap is the light-tinted musquash, which is not so dear as the darker. It comes from the under part of the animal, and is soft and delicate looking. Movable leather linings have found general acceptance. The fur-coats de luxe this year are simply superb. Many of them combine three furs—musquash, caracul and black fox; and the linings are of brilliant lines—rich red rose, mandarin orange and the like, accompanied often by a bordering at the hem inside of fine embroidery quite eight inches deep, following the outline of the cloaks, which are long, almost to the feet, and swirl around the figure with the grace that the fashion a fine day enjoins.

The sleeves are often after the coat order, but cling to the arm not allowing the cold winds to creep up. Stolelike trimmings often border the neck and descend to the feet, for stoles long and simple still prevail in the very best furs, and the undim number of heads and tails have been reduced within a limited area.

Why Farmers Don't Raise Cheaper Food.

Everybody is lecturing the farmer nowadays. It is costing so much for food, that, from the minister down to the corner grocer's boy, everyone is telling the man who makes food how he can do it cheaper.

No doubt a lot of superfluous advice is being offered the man with the hoe. At the same time some things are being said that he might well take notice of.

For instance, a neighbor of the writer went out for a walk of five miles in the country the other day. During that walk he passed perhaps a dozen farmhouses. He noted four valuable pieces of farm machinery that had been left out in the rain, and apparently were in for a seige of rust to last all the winter. Anyone familiar with country life knows that this is a thing commonly seen.

How long would a manufacturer keep on doing business if he allowed a roof to leak so badly that the rain fell on a costly machine every time it stormed?—Manchester Mirror.

The Senatorship in New Hampshire.

In the selection of a United States senator to succeed Senator Burnham we are fully as interested in whom our legislature "does not" appoint as we are in whom it does. For instance, there is our present governor, who would like to be a senator. We do not consider him equal to the work and are unable to find that in his public record which would entitle him to consideration. It's a big job that requires a big man. If possible we should send a statesman, and we submit that Governor Bass has yet to prove himself a statesman. We would also be fearful of the personal ambition of a man who forsook the party that elected him to office while still retaining that office and on the plea that the party was not good enough for him, although it had been good enough for him when it alone could make him governor.—Coos County Democrat.

The Philadelphia Ledger says the "Red Cross stamp" for the season of 1912 is about to be placed on sale throughout the country, and the estimates of the demand for it run far into the millions. This little emblem is now universally recognized as one of the practical methods which have been adopted to remind the thoughtless of the great battle which is being waged by our modern civilization upon the "white plague," that terrible preventable scourge which takes a greater annual toll of human life than almost any other single cause which can be mentioned. The profit from the sale of the stamps all goes to help the crusade for the abolition of tuberculosis, and every person who buys and uses them at this Christmas season helps thereby to support one of the most beneficent activities in which the world is today engaged.

The New York World remarks that every other nation except Great Britain that has opera at all has it in its native tongue. France, Spain, Italy, Germany and even Russia have the masterpieces of music sung in words intelligible to the people that hear them. Only we that speak English are content to listen to songs we do not understand and to follow emotions that might as well be rendered in pantomime. The assertion that English is not a singing language was born either of ignorance or of impudence. Our language contains some of the most beautiful songs in the world, and some of the greatest of singers have delighted to render them. Any opera singer could surely learn to sing English as easily as Russian.

The New York Sun says that while casualty lists of the present conflict are still non-existent, there is a general agreement that never in the history of war has the mortality of experts been larger. German, British, French, Austrian, Italian and even American, the men whose business it is to know about military matters were still talking of Ottoman invaders in Roumelia when the Bulgarian army was racing for Constantinople.

The Cleveland New remarks that hundreds of men and boys in Cleveland habitually carry loaded revolvers. And they are not the peaceable, law-abiding kind. As a rule they are the turbulent, the reckless, the vicious, the criminal and the hangers-on of low saloons. What can be expected, then, but that almost daily somebody shall be laid low with a bullet?

If Concord isn't the best-lighted city in New Hampshire let's make it so at once. We had the impression it was already the "best" in all respects.—Concord Monitor.

If you want to see the best lighted city in the state just drop down to old Portsmouth and see how pretty we look by night as well as by day.

The news comes from Concord that Governor Robert Perkins Bass will not be a candidate for United States senator, but will retire from active politics, and take a trip abroad at the end of his present gubernatorial term. This seems almost too good news to be true.

INTEGRITY

[Reprinted from the Boston Post, Dec. 3]

In response to a request for his opinion on the report of the New Hampshire Public Service Commission, which was made public earlier in the day, President Charles S. Mellen said:

"I have not had an opportunity to read the very voluminous report just submitted by the commission, and so I am not prepared to discuss the recommendations of the commission.

"I have noticed, however, certain things in the report which are exceedingly gratifying, especially at this time, when there seems to be a renewal of the statements that the New Haven has not dealt fairly with the Boston & Maine, and a general agitation started against the New England railroad lines, which by false charges against the integrity of the management might become demoralizing to the railroad organization and harmful to the entire transportation and business interests of New England.

"It should be remembered that the Public Service Commission of New Hampshire has been investigating all matters relating to the Boston & Maine railroad and its control by the New Haven railroad for more than a year and has probed into every feature of railroad management.

"On the question of the effect of New Haven control the following statements are interesting:

Particular attention was devoted to the division of joint rates enjoyed by the Boston & Maine railroad and to the gateways of exchange on joint business with other carriers, and especially with the New Haven company, to determine whether full advantage and fair treatment was being obtained by the Boston & Maine railroad in those cases where it had the right to protect its long haul business and revenues.

The result of these investigations, it should be conceded, indicates that the acts of the New Haven company, since its dominant control, offer little ground for criticism in this particular, as it appears that where new joint rates have been established the basis of division is substantially that of a strict mileage proportion, or, where changes in the routes have been inaugurated between the two systems, resulting in a shorter haul for the Boston & Maine, that the old divisions have been continued through the new gateways of interchange, and the Boston & Maine has suffered no diminution of revenues.

"In the light of charges which are being loosely made as to coal contracts and other purchases, the following statement is particularly significant:

Special attention was given by the commission to the contracts for coal supply, and although it developed there was a close interlocking relation between those interested in the Virginia Iron, Coal & Coke Company, the Keystone Coal Company and the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad or its officers, and that these two coal companies together held contracts for 1,080,000 tons of the 1,500,000 tons needed to supply the Boston & Maine railroad's annual requirements, it appeared from the best outside information obtainable from those experienced in coal business that both the terms and prices were advantageous and favorable to the railroad company.

"The report further continues: 'In general, however, it was found that all efforts by those in immediate control of purchases were being bent to secure the best and most economical results, and especially is this true at the present time.'"

Nationality of the Men Who Handle the Picks and Shovels

The Panama canal is not only the biggest work of modern times, it is one of the biggest of all time. And like other great works by man, one or two or half a dozen men will practically get all the credit for the wonderful achievement. The American public has heard about Roosevelt's "taking Panama" and so making the canal possible; it has heard of Wallace and Stevens, and more especially of Gorgas and Goethals. Especially is the name of the latter world famous, and no one who has ever heard of the canal, probably, but has associated Col. Goethals' name with it as its chief builder.

Yet the actual builders of the world's mightiest waterway, the men who actually ran the dump trains, handled pick and bar, drill, and steam shovel, are unknown. Outside of a few who have delved into the records of the constructive work very few have any definite knowledge even as to the nationality of the common laborers whose toil has almost completed the great canal.

A correspondent of the London Times who has recently visited and described for that Journal the enterprise from its beginning has thought these thousands of laborers worthy of classification and identification by nationality. He found that three nations, the British, American and Span working force, with a sprinkling of ish, formed the great body of the Chinese, one Japanese, 300 East Indians, a few Greeks, Italians and other Europeans. Going into detail, he found the laborers classified as to their origin as follows: West Indies, 29,667; Spain, 8,732; Italy, 1,341; Colombia, 1,403; France furnished only 79; Armenia 14; Costa Rica 244; Panama 357, while 69 were unclassified. Of the West Indian Islands Barbados furnished the greatest number, 16,448; Martinique comes next with 5,542; Trinidad 1,284, while the other islands furnished only a few hundred, Jamaica having only 47.

The project of enlisting American negroes in the work seems never seriously to have been attempted, the abundance of labor in the West Indian Islands, so much nearer the canal, giving the latter the preference. Among the most successful of the laborers, until Spain forbade their emigration, were the Spanish. Even as it is, including Latin Americans, Spain and her former colonies took an important part in building the canal through territory itself formerly Spanish.

The laborers in all formed a mighty army, varying in size and personnel from year to year, being highest in March, 1910, when the number reached 33,675 men actually at work out of an available force of about 50,000 on the isthmus. Since 1906 the figures show that about one seventh of the total force have been Americans, another seventh European laborers and the remaining five-sevenths practically all West Indian or white men in the later years of the building of the canal is, of course due to the fact that sanitary science had by that time made the Canal zone a healthy place for Europeans or Americans to live in and work in.

Still another fact of interest which differentiates the building of the Panama canal from all other great work of the past is that it was built by well paid and well-fed laborers, and not as in the case of the Pyramids of Egypt by slaves driven by task-masters to their daily toil.—New York Times.

PEOPLE'S OPINIONS

Old Fireman Makes Comparison.

Thirty-two years ago today the Kearsarge Mill was destroyed by fire, and there was about two feet of snow to drag the apparatus through to the Hanover street reservoir. There was no hydrant in those days or were there horses to draw the hose reels. The firemen in those days had something else to think of when a fire occurred besides getting into that rubber coat, if which there were very few in those days. Coats were only furnished to the pipemen. Now the men, other than those attached to the permanent apparatus, when the alarm sounds run to their quarters and sit around, chew the rag and kick if their horses do not show up to give them a ride to the fire.

About $24,000 From Army-Navy Game Proceeds Available
Philadelphia, Dec. 3.—About $24,000, the proceeds of the sale of one-third of the tickets for last Saturday's Army-Navy football game, will be turned over to the relief societies that look after the widows and orphans of officers and men dying in the two services according to announcement made today by Dr. J. William White, chairman of the University of Pennsylvania committee in charge of the game. The contributions to the two societies by the University of Pennsylvania as a result of the game played here now amount to more than $100,000.

BRANDED AS FOOLISH

Washington, Dec. 3.—The proposal for a separation of taking oath of office by President-elect Wilson and the inaugural ceremonies has been branded as "utterly foolish" by the district Democratic national committee. It was pointed out that it would be impossible to obtain enough money for both occasions. The people come here, it was declared, not to witness the great pageant and social features but the historical event of the swearing in of a President of the United States.

COMMISSION HEARINGS.

Lots of Business Ahead for Public Service Board.

The following petitions have been filed with the public service commission:

Exeter & Hampton Electric company for approval of an issue of $25,000 of capital stock.

Exeter Railway & Lighting company for approval of an issue of $25,000 preferred capital stock.

The commission will give a hearing at Laconia today upon the petition of the Laconia Street railway for leave to discontinue till May 1, 1913, the operation of a portion of its line between Lakeport and The Weirs.

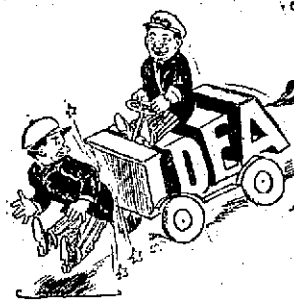

Today hearings will be had at Littleton upon the petition of C. M. Lane and others v. Boston & Maine railroad for improved passenger station and freight yard facilities and upon the petition of C. M. Lane and others v. Boston & Maine for a depot at Apthorp.

These hearings will be conducted by Commissioners Niles and Worthen. Commissioner Betton, clerk of the commission, having been subpoenaed to attend with certain records of the commission before the United States grand jury in New York on Dec. 4.

BOARD OF INSTRUCTION IN MONTHLY MEETING

Discuss State Normal School Proposition--School Year Ending Well Within Appropriation.

The monthly meeting of the Board of Instruction was held on Tuesday evening with the full board present, and Mayor Badger presiding.

The usual batch of bills were disposed of and ordered paid.

The monthly report of superintendent Pringle and the financial officer, were read and accepted.

A letter was received from State Superintendent H. C. Morrison, in reply to a request from the Board for something definite in regard to the State Normal School and his opinion of the advisability of having a Normal school here.

Mr. Morrison did not express an opinion but said he simply wanted to know what the city of Portsmouth was willing to offer in the way of inducement for the state establishing a Normal school here as to building and opportunity of training.

The opinion of the Board was that Mr. Morrison had not answered the question, and after some discussion the matter was left on the table.

The request of the teachers of the Farragut school to use the school building for parent's meetings, boy club meetings and teachers meetings on Friday evenings was granted with the approval of the superintendent.

Rev. Dr. Thayer said that a request had been made on the part of some of the people living at the Plains district for the use of the school building there for Sunday afternoon meetings for the children of that neighborhood. It was the desire of the people to make the meetings something that would interest and instruct the children who were running wild in that section.

Admiral Foster was in favor of welfare work but objected to any religious demonstration having the use of the building. He strongly opposed using a school building for sectarian purposes. After some discussion the permission was granted with the proviso that it should not be used for sectarian purposes.

The use of the high school building certain rooms, for the evening school was granted.

Superintendent Pringle made a statement of the financial condition of the school, showing that the financial year would be finished within the appropriation and with a balance.

He called the attention of the need of more room in the chemical laboratory in the high school building, and made some suggestions as to improvement which would permit the class which now was so large that it could not be handled being taken care of.

The matter was finally left to the committee on School Houses with power.

Admiral Foster made inquiries about the medical inspection and health condition of the schools and it was reported to be excellent. The matter of medical inspection was answered by Dr. Towle who said that while some of the schools had been looked after no provision had been made for others, but it was thought that enough volunteers would be secured to have it done.

The finance committee report was read.

SUNDAY SHOOTING.

To Be Rigorously Suppressed By the Authorities.

Acting on a complaint filed with Governor Bass, against hunting and the use of firearms on the Sabbath day, Attorney General Tuttle has called the attention of the various county solicitors as well as of the members of the fish and game commission to the violation of the statutes and notified them that the law must be enforced.

The law applicable to the matter is Chapter 271 of the public statutes.

Section 4 prescribes that no person shall, on the Lord's day, discharge any firearm for sport or in the pursuit of game, nor carry a firearm in a field, highway, or private way, while in the pursuit of game, or with intent to discharge the same in sport.

The penalty prescribed is a fine of $10 and 30 days' imprisonment.

Section 11 of the law provides that any person, upon view of any offense described in this chapter, may apprehend the offender, and bring him before a justice for trial.

Acting under the letter of the attorney general, the fish and game commission has notified all its agents to enforce the law to the letter in the localities in which they are placed, and a determined effort is to be made to stop the practice of hunting on the Sabbath.

Action is taken at this time from the fact that three Sundays are included in the deer shooting season.

COURT UPHOLDS FATHER

New York, Dec. 3.—Sixty-five dollars is too much for a college boy to pay for an overcoat when his father is wearing a $20 one, and the New York state supreme court has just declined to enforce payment by the father of a tailor's bill of this character.

The suit was brought by a tailor in Middletown, Conn., against M. A. Bailey of New York whose son is a student at Wesleyan university. When the tailor sent his bill to Mr. Bailey the father replied:

"I acknowledge no responsibility whatever for this account. My son needed an overcoat and I expected to purchase it for him at $20."

FOR A BAD STOMACH PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN

Time it! In Five Minutes Gas, Sourness and Indigestion is Gone

Sour, gassy, upset stomach. Indigestion, heartburn, dyspepsia, when the food you eat ferments into gases and stubborn lumps; your head aches and you feel sick and miserable that's when you realize the magic in Pape's Diapepsin. It makes such misery vanish in five minutes.

If your stomach is in a continuous revolt—if you can't get it regulated, please, for your sake, try Diapepsin. It's so needless to have a bad stomach—make your next meal a favorite food meal, then take a little Diapepsin. There will not be any distress—eat without fear. It's because Pape's Diapepsin "really does" regulate weak, out-of-order stomachs that gives it its millions of sales annually.

Get a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. It is the quickest, surest stomach relief and cure known; it acts almost like magic—it is scientific, harmless and pleasant preparation which truly belongs in every home.

STATE TAKES CRAWFORD NOTCH

Concord, N. H., Dec. 3.—Hon. Edwin G. Eastman of Exeter, George B. Moulton of Lisbon and James E. French of Moultonboro, commissioners appointed by the Supreme Court to assess damages for land taken by the state in the acquisition of Crawford Notch, have filed their findings with the clerk of the court at the state library.

The Commission fixes the value of the soft wood and timber on the land named in the petition at $27,250 and the value of the entire tract, including hard wood and excluding soft wood, at $72,000.

The title to 114 acres described in the petition is in dispute, the tract being claimed by the Barron Hotel Company and by Charles H. Morey. The Commission finds in this particular that "if the 114 acres shall finally be declared to be the property of the Barron Hotel Company then we award as damages to Charles H. Morey $71,430, and to Abraham Stahl purchaser of the soft wood, $21,820, and to the Barron Hotel Company for soft wood and timber the sum of $4,420, and for the land and hard wood $576.

"If the disputed tract is finally found to be the property of Charles H. Morey we award to him $72,000 and to Stahl $27,250."

The expenses of the Commission totalled $1661.27.

LONG TIME GETTING HIM

John Karl was arrested by the police today charged with the larceny of a watch from John Sourmalas. The grab took place last September in a Polish boarding house at the west end. Since the steal Karl has been missing. Today he landed back in town and one of the boarders got his eye on him. The result was a tip to the police by telephone and John was immediately pinched.

The bridegroom is a fireman on the Portland division of the Boston and Maine. The couple will reside in Sacon this winter.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure

[From a series of elaborate chemical tests.]

Comparative digestibility of food made with different baking powders:

An equal quantity of bread (biscuit) was made with each of three different kinds of baking powder—cream of tartar, phosphate, and alum—and submitted separately to the action of the digestive fluid, each for the same length of time.

The percentage of the food digested is shown as follows:

Bread made with Royal Cream of Tartar Powder:

99 Per Cent. Digested

Bread made with phosphate powder:

67½ Per Cent. Digested

Bread made with alum powder:

67 Per Cent. Digested

Royal Baking powder raised food is shown to be of greatly superior digestibility and healthfulness.

MARRIED THE NEGRO

Chicago, Dec. 3.—Jack Johnson, negro pugilist, this afternoon, married Miss Lucille Cameron, the 19-year-old white girl of Minneapolis who recently appeared as a witness against him before the federal grand jury which returned indictments charging him with violations of the Mann act.

The ceremony was performed at the home of Johnson's aged mother on the South Side by H. A. Roberts, a negro preacher, in the presence of a dozen colored people and several newspaper reporters. Miss Cameron wore a tallmaded gray suit of shepherd plaid and a large black picture hat with purple plumes. Johnson had a suit of the same material especially made for the occasion. A curious crowd of nearly a thousand men and women gathered outside the house and a squad of police was kept busy maintaining order.

STARTLING FIGURES ON CONDITION OF SCHOOL CHILDREN

Is your child mentally defective? Before you dismiss this question from your mind with a "shaw!" Of course not! Just consider his chances of being normal. Does he go to school? Is he backward in his school work? Has he been promoted every time he had a chance? Does he get all his lessons well? And most important of all, does he play with boys of his own age and as well as they do? If your boy or girl does not do these things as well as other boys and girls of the same age, your boy or girl belongs to the great army of "retarded children."

With his assistant, Dr. Arthur Holmes the founder has made a long and thorough study of atypical children, using the most scientific and careful methods and keeping accurate records over a series of years. The work of the Clinic has become known all over the United States. Children have been brought half way across the continent to be examined and treated. Special classes for such children have been formed from time to time and special schools have organized for their training. Teachers from all parts of the country attend special classes in the university in order to learn the art of diagnosing atypical children and to apply the proper pedagogical training to them. Other schools and universities have commenced similar work, and the public school system of New York City has established, under the direct supervision of Miss Elizabeth Parrel, an almost similar agency for classifying its backward children.

So much has this great work been extended that Dr. Holmes has just prepared an account of the work and the methods of dealing with special children in an interesting book with the significant title of "The Conservation of the Child" (Lippincott). From the voluminous records of the Clinic he has drawn illustrations of many cases to prove his rather startling assertions. For example, he says of the backward children in our public schools: "From the foregoing figures an increasing conception of the enormity of the problem may be gained. Of the 17,061,362 public school pupils reported by the commissioner of Education (for 1909) 33.7 per cent or a little more than one third, will probably leave school at the legal age without completing a common-school education. An army of the same total with 5,749,881 stragglers, or an army with a like proportion of stragglers, would be a perilous foundation upon which to base the hopes of a state for stability and continued prosperity in democratic America the school children of today will form the foundation of our Republic of tomorrow, and one of the largest, if not the very largest stone in the foundation of any republic, is the intelligence of its citizens."

This gives the chance your child has of being pedagogically backward. He has one chance in three of getting a common-school education by the time he reaches legal age; one chance in three of being "normal" so far as school progress is concerned. He may be only one year behind and he may be two or three, or five or six years behind his grade. The farther he is behind the bigger chance he has of being mentally defective and sure the bigger chance he has of entering that great army of illiterate voters in America, estimated some years ago as numbering about 1,400,000 or about 10 per cent of the total voters in the country. From this point of view, retardation is not merely a family affair, nor even a school affair involving millions of money expenditure on 60,000 teachers and now about 200,000 pupils, but it is a national affair involving to a serious extent the welfare of 100,000,000 of people in a nation that depends for the existence of its present institutions chiefly upon the educated intelligence of its people.

Bad as this condition is it has a still more sinister aspect. All the children stunted in school are not hopelessly backward. They are not mentally defective. Some can be saved and wholly recovered from their state. Quoting again from Dr. Holmes' book, "To say that a child is 'backward' or 'retarded' should not allege or imply the existence of a physical or mental disease; many, and nearly always does, imply one defect or some lack. But that it is not always regrettable." Then he gives illustrations of an original and advanced boy who gave trouble at school and a "forward" young girl who gave trouble at home. Then he expresses his contention that the distinction between the curably retarded and incurably is a matter of importance, vital and far-reaching that it can be made by a judicious manager, he overstates. Not backwardness alone but incurable backwardness is the state to be dreaded. "All slow, dull, stupid, ordinary, feeble-minded, imbecile and idiotic children," says the doctor, "may be backward. Even some bright, quick, witty, brilliant children may be backward. School children, children without brain lesions, without physical defects may be pedagogically retarded and not socially retarded. Retardation of itself and by itself is not a mark of fruitful classifications. The additional attribute of curable or incurable must be added."

Probably the law mind will grasp the significance of this distinction most quickly by understanding that all incurably mentally retarded children are feeble-minded, or morons, as they are now called, or imbeciles or idiots. The ethical importance of deciding upon this distinction with any particular child is evidenced by the enormous number of these children in the world. "Probably the ordinary man and woman has not the faintest conception of the menacing army of feeble-minded already in existence, the danger of their promiscuous mixing with other people and totally inadequate provision made for them by the State. The 'Conservation of the Child' has massed together a shuddering mass of figures that needs only the imagination to quicken into an army of hideous, darkened physically and mentally deformed creatures brought into the world by no will of their own and now blindly going on their way picking up their meagre livings wherever possible and propagating their kind in increasing ratio without let or hindrance."

Quoting first from the unimpeachable testimony of the Educational Commissioner's report for 1909, Dr. Holmes briefly summarizes the situation as there given, saying "The State institutions had 17,649 inmates. . . . The seventeen private institutions had 927 inmates." All told this makes about 20,000 feeble-minded people reported in institutions in the United States in 1909. This alone would not be alarming. It would not be the occasion of any thought. But by itself, it is the mere surface hint of the sinister conditions really existing. The real number of defectives in the country is hardly even suggested by the report. Our book says "The working rule adopted by those officially interested, is that one of every 600 of the entire population is feeble-minded. A fair proportion of these find their way into public schools." Do you know what that means? That means that out of 100,000,000 of people in the United States, 200,000 are feeble-minded, that is, incurably retarded in their mental capacity for life and able to pass that condition on to their offspring! Your child has one chance in 500 of being one of these terribly unfortunate ones. But lest the uninformed take this as an exaggerated and sensational report to be waved aside by American cocksureness that nothing can be wrong with his country, we will take the figures of the Royal Commission appointed in 1904 to study conditions in the British Isles. To foreshorten the long array of figures given in Dr. Holmes' book we will say that that commission appointed by royal power and composed of the sanest medical men in the Empire, found that every 348 persons out of every 1,000 were feeble-minded. If then we apply these most careful figures to the United States, "it would bring the total number of mentally defective persons in the United States, in round numbers, up to more than 287,000 out of 1,000,000,000."

Of these only 20,000 are reported to be in institutions, public and private. Where are the rest?

A fair percentage are in schools. This percentage, says Dr. Holmes, after working over a large number of statistics, and especially the school commissioner's bulletin No. 14, 1911, "may be roughly estimated at 4 per cent. of the total attendance. This 4 per cent. may be divided into two grades. 'The lower one includes about one-half of 1 per cent. of the entire membership. They are generally mentally deficient children. They are institution cases and should be removed to institutions.' Did this startling fact ever occur to you that you are making your best-beloved child daily with children 4 out of every 100 of whom are mentally feeble, and 2 of every 200 ought to be in asylums? That your child is part of an army of 2,000,000, of whom 800,000 are below par mentally, and 100,000 are fit for feeble-minded institutions? These figures are the calm, tabulated account of the matter stated by an official bulletin of the Federal Government. These statistics are further corroborated by commissions appointed under the most careful and conservative oversight. The figures from all sources do not always agree, but the lowest possible estimate and the most favorable possible interpretation make the picture serious enough for every man and every woman's consideration."

Of the mentally defective children not in institutions and not in schools a large part still remain unaccounted for. Where are they? Dr. Holmes sums up the matter in this way: "Of this vast number, an estimated 10 per cent. are in public and private institutions; the other 90 per cent. are pursuing their unregulated way, some at home, some at work, some idlers, tramps, loafers, criminals, and some at school doing and diverting its energies from their proper channels in a vain attempt to teach the unteachable things. How many of the total number are being deprived of any training whatsoever and who roam the streets at will, nobody knows. Consider it is that every hamlet, every village, every town and every large city in an increasing proportion, has its quota of children designated as 'foolish,' 'silly,' 'not all there,' 'lacking in the upper story,' or 'queer.'"

Many other things are contained in this remarkable book, doubly remarkable because it is the result of an epoch-making work, which we cannot even mention. A large part of it is taken up with setting forth in the clearest and most simple language the tests necessary for distinguishing children of different mental types. The book is illustrated with a number of photographs showing the different types of children met with among the atypical groups. The common physical defects causing retardation are thus illustrated.

AN EASY LESSON IN HOME DRESSMAKING

A well fitted coat will hold its shape to the figure and hold straight along the front edges when unbuttoned. If the coat is inclined to flare away pin several small dartlike tucks about one quarter of an inch deep at the front edge, and stopping to a point about two inches back, just over the bust. These tucks may be marked with a thread and the pins removed.

COMPLETED SIDEWALKS

The Board of Public Works have completed the work on the Islington street sidewalks and have succeeded in making a very good job of the sidewalk at Dover street, where there was a considerable change in the grade.

MEDICAL SOCIETY

The monthly meeting of the Portsmouth Medical Society was held on Tuesday evening at the Rockingham and there were interesting papers by Dr. Souter and Walker.

When making fudge or molasses candy, if the dish is greased a little below the rim the candy will not ball marked with a thread and the pins removed.

My goodness, you don't mean to tell me that little can costs Fifty Cents?

Makes about 100 cups? Well, that's different.

Let's see, that's about half a cent a cup.

And you say it's in powder, and a little over a half a teaspoonful stirred in a cup of hot water makes Postum instantly, and with a perfect flavour?

Well, that surely would be a comfort.

Oh yes, some members in most every family have stomach or nervous trouble with coffee, and it's fine to have a snappy beverage like Postum that don't break down the nerves.

I'm glad you brought to my attention this

WILL ELECT GALLINGER PRESIDENT OF SENATE

Regular republicans in the senate after a series of conferences Tuesday are, mildly elated tonight over the prospect of electing senator Gallinger of New Hampshire as President pro tempore on Dec. 16, when the term of senator Bacon of Georgia, democrat, in that office will expire. Success of their plans depends on winning over two or three of the progressive republicans, who last year steadily blocked an election by throwing their votes to one of their number and so breaking a majority.

The insurgents have not been generally praised for their success in blocking an election which the senate is required to make under the constitution. The recent overwhelming defeat of both republican factions has further chastened them, and with the exception of Mr. Dixon of Montana, Col. Roosevelt's campaign manager, and Mr. Pinckney of Washington—both of whom are declared Bull Moose—the party remnants unite in caucus.

BASEBALL NOTES.

With Ed Dugdale owner at Seattle and Joe McGinnity owner at Tacoma, Northwestern League fans will enjoy the interesting situation of old-time battery mates rivals for the pennant. McGinnity and Dugdale made up the battery for the Peoria team in the old Western association twenty years ago.

Marty O'Toole is quoted as saying that the best puzzle in the National League next year is in picking the team that will finish second. "We all know," says Marty, "that Pittsburgh is going to win the pennant, but it is going to be more difficult to hope out just which club is destined to cop the runner-up honors."

Empire Joe O'Brien, who had a trial in the American League last fall and was holding the baton in the series, the Athletics have been playing a Cuba game to the American association next year. President Dan Johnson never turned him over to President Livingston in exchange for Charlie Ferguson.

Eddie Gaedel, who had his name on the St. Louis Browns' list for a big year ago, and then went back to Columbus, has been sold by that club to Vancouver in the Northwestern league. He played last season with Marion and Ironton, in the Ohio State league, under a Columbus option.

High Jennings says the lambasting he Athletics have been giving the Cubs confirms what he said that there was no reason for them to beat any old American lot of players who could keep in condition. Heretofore says Jennings, all the trips taken to Cuba have been nothing but joy journeys, with no great effort to play ball.

The Lowell club of the New England league plans a handsome new grand stand to replace the one recently burned. There had been talk of a new stand for several years, and now that the old one is destroyed, the owner of the club are compelled to act. The cost is not too great, the new stand will be of steel and concrete.

In Chicago, where Lew Ritter has been named to manage the team, they are giving him credit for winning the pennant for Utes, saying he practically ran the team on the field. Utes fans still maintain, however, that Mike O'Neill won the pennant for the Utes where Ute Clymer still says President Farrell won it for them.

President Dan Johnson, in an interview in Kansas City, is quoted as saying that Frank Chance "might take Wolverton's job with the Highlanders if he can get away from Garry Herrmann," and President Lynch answers that waivers will have to be asked at once again for Chance before he can get out of the National league.

Manager Harry Clark of the Milwaukee Brewers in announcing three deals at the Milwaukee meeting, said that he expected to close several others before calling his team together at Owsboro for spring work. The deals made known were the sale of Don Marion to Wilke-Barre and Alva Holt to Lowell and the purchase of Clemens from Lowell.

King Cole, sent down from Pittsburgh to Columbus, has made good his threat to retire from baseball—for the winter. He has taken a job in a Chicago barber shop. The shop is only a few doors from President Murphy's office, and it is rumored that Cole hopes his former boss will drop in some time for a shave. Then Cole will square accounts.

MR. TARBELL RESIGNS

He Has Been Instructor at Museum of Fine Arts for More Than A Score of Years.

Boston art circles were somewhat surprised Tuesday morning to hear that Edmund C. Tarbell of New Castle, who has been an instructor at the Museum of Fine Arts for more than a score of years, had resigned. It was also rumored that Frank W. Benson had resigned as instructor, but this Mr. Benson denied.

Mr. Tarbell said last evening: "I have tendered my resignation in a letter in which I made clear my willingness to serve until my place shall be filled satisfactorily."

The resignation will be acted upon at the next meeting of the executive committee of the Art School to be held next month. Thomas Allen, chairman of the committee, and he says that Mr. Tarbell's resignation is not a complete surprise as about two years ago, both Mr. Tarbell and Mr. Benson announced that their school work combined with outside was a heavy strain and that they might be forced to resign on this account.

Later the school management arranged that instructors get one year off with pay in every seven years. An instructor receives a salary of $2000 a year.

NEW HAMPSHIRE RAILROAD RATES

After two years spent in an investigation of railroad rates in New Hampshire the Public Service Commission of the state has prepared for the incoming legislature an exceedingly fair and able report. When the legislature created this commission two years ago and left it to the whole consideration of what should be done regarding the rates of the Boston and Maine Railroad, which has been raised by the corporation in admitted violation of law, a wise course was taken, for the prejudices and passions of the times have moderated, and the problem has apparently been approached with an open mind. The fairness of the Commission is manifested in this paragraph regarding purchases. "In general it was found that all efforts by those in immediate control of purchases were being bent to secure the best and most economical results, and especially is this true at the present time."

In its findings the Commission by a method of allocation of receipts and expenditures, has discovered that the revenues of the Boston and Maine yield it a net revenue of only about 5 per cent. To continue the present rates in force it is undesirable on account of the multitude of inequalities. But to restore the old rate under the maximum fixed by the laws of 1882 and 1889 would not only prevent a rational rate adjustment, without seriously impairing the revenues of the railroad but many of the leased lines would not come under those laws. The Commission, however, while recognizing that the control of rates is a purely legislative question is firmly of the opinion that New Hampshire should do nothing which would in any way impair its unique measure of control over the railroads. This is in line with the tendencies of the times. Surrender of the sovereign power of the state would not be countenanced by the people.

Discussing the possible solution of the problem, the Commission advises against the renewal of the restrictive statutes of 1882 and 1889 as might have been expected. Another alternative, the enforcement of these restrictive statutes, in toto, is also considered inadvisable. The complaints of rates in New Hampshire are not directed so much against the maximum as against the manifest and innumerable inequalities.

The present rates are so unsystematic and such an unscientific jumble due to many consolidations and lessens. The solution which the Commission proposes to the legislature is the determination of a sound and rational rate basis, upon which all schedules, whether interstate, or intrastate, on the Boston and Maine system might be arranged. To do this the commission says the assent of the railroad would be necessary. It is questionable, however, whether the state and the railroad could make a legal and binding agreement regarding interstate rates, which would deprive the interstate Commerce Commission of one of its powers. Neither the state nor the railroad could properly enter into any agreement to waive power of control which it does not possess. This solution, however, is capable of modification, by the legislature which would permit the establishment of a basic rate so far as intrastate business is concerned and under this a fair adjustment of interstate business might be made.

In its final findings the Commission paves the way for a satisfactory settlement of a problem which has vexed the people of New Hampshire for generations. It is not probable that the legislature will apply itself as a whole to the problem of rate making. The Public Service Commission may be delegated that power, and as a body is much more capable, especially after the long and able investigation it has made, of making reasonable and equitable rates. Approaching the problem in a spirit of fairness and with a determination to relinquish none of the control now possessed by the state, the Public Service Commission ought to find a solution which will be a long step forward to ideal settlement. —Boston Transcript.

CRIMINAL CASES DISPOSED OF

Superior Court Judge Robert Pike presiding, came in on Tuesday for the adjourned October session, and the court was in session in the forenoon and adjourned at noon so that the attorneys could attend the funeral of Judge Samuel W. Emery.

County Solicitor Guphill disposed of the following criminal cases.

William Little pleaded guilty to charge of larceny of a bicycle and his case was continued for sentence. Harry N. Cook and Olympia Triois of Raymond, pleaded guilty to a statutory offense and they were fined $25 and costs, and a sentence of six months was suspended.

George A. Clark of this city pleaded guilty of assault on Lasarous Charious and he paid a fine of $20.00 and cost.

Leahy Small of Epping, pleaded guilty to a charge of breaking and entering and case was continued for sentence.

The petit jury will report at 10 o'clock this forenoon and the docket will be started.

NEW SENATORS ARE SWORN IN

Washington, Dec. 3.—Senators William P. Jackson of Maryland, successor of the late Isadore Raynor, and Kirtland I. Perky of Idaho, successor of the late Weldon B. Heyburn, were sworn in in the senate today.

The credentials of Robert F. Broussard of Louisiana, now a representative but elected senator for the term beginning in 1915, were presented. Many federal appointments made by President Taft in the recess of Congress were sent today to the senate for confirmation. Among appointments were that of Edgar J. Clark of Iowa as a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission, and D. O. Newbury as a collector of customs for the Albemarle district of North Carolina.

Well, the champions came back, and did a lot of things to the old records.

Accounting took a big boost as a result of their work, and those Store bowlers will have to keep moving to hold the lead.

General Store rolls Hett Division Thursday evening. It may make some difference at the top of the standing.

Manager Hett said, "It still looks like a hard winter." Asst. Manager Tremper of Machinery had nothing to say.

NEW OFFICIALS ARE ELECTED

Important Meeting of Portsmouth Harbor Held Tuesday Evening.

Portsmouth Harbor, No. 83, Masters Mates and Pilots was a very busy organization on Tuesday evening when the annual election of officers took place.

Important business that is later to be beneficial to Portsmouth, was pushed forward by the body as a whole. The association was favored with a visit from John H. Pruett, Captain of the National Harbor of New York, who gave a most interesting address on the formation of the naval reserve as recommended by certain naval officers. He also had much to say on navigation. The Harbor has many improvements under consideration and the most important that will be worked upon, will be the removal of Gangway Ledge and Pull-and-De-Damned Point. The association will also do something for the increase of appropriation of Pepperrell's Cove improvement. The officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: President, Charles W. Frisbee, first vice president, Capt. Fred P. Lindsay, second vice president, Captain Shirley S. Holt, secretary and treasurer E. R. Currier. Refreshments were served after the meeting. The newly elected officers will be installed the first Tuesday in January.

NAVY YARD NEWS

Captain Evans Attends.

Capt. Thomas Evans, master pilot at the Boston navy yard, was here on Tuesday night to attend the meeting of the local association of Masters, Mates and Pilots.

Once More We Hear It.

Once more the plan of consolidating the officers of the yard in one building is talked of. Rumor has it that the building now occupied by the hull division, clerks and draftsmen may be taken for that purpose if the move is made to concentrate the official heads.

Naval Movements

The Bailey and Slingham have arrived at Washington, D. C., the Beale at Norfolk, the Hector at Melville station, R. I.; the Whipple, Paul Jones, Treble Stewart and Truxton at San Francisco and the Utah, Delaware, Virginia, Rhode Island, Georgia Illinois, Vermont, New Hampshire and Idaho at the southern drill grounds.

The Supply has sailed from Guam for Manila, the Parle from Santo Domingo city for Philadelphia and the Mohawk from Washington for Norfolk and the Denver from Guaymas for Pichilingue.

Naval Orders

Lieut. Virgil Baker has been placed on the retired list of the navy.

Lieut. (junior grade) R. W. Cabanis to Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md.

Ensign J. F. Shafroth, Jr., from Beale to Jenkins.

Ensign W. W. Turner from Jenkins to North Carolina.

Ensign H. E. Snow, from Baltimore to Beale.

Medical Inspector M. F. Gates from Command Solace to three months' leave.

Chief Boatswain O. T. Hurdle, from works of American Milling Co., Owensboro, Ky., to Navy Yard, Portsmouth, N. H.

Chief Gunner D. F. Diggins, from navy yard, Mare Island, Cal., to Charleston.

Gunner A. E. Skinner to navy yard Philadelphia, Pa.

Gunner C. L. Bridges to navy yard, Mare Island, Cal.

Paymaster's Clerk Thomas Dunn, appointment revoked.

Paymaster's Clerk C. C. Alger to naval station, Honolulu, T. H.

Paymaster's Clerk E. W. Poore, to Iowa.

Be In Tomorrow.

The Hector, on her way with a cargo of coal, is expected to arrive on Thursday.

Tommy Sporting.

Thomas J. Brooks of the central power plant has been enjoying a furlough of five days.

Going Back to Store

A recent order putting the laborers of the general store in the machinery division has been revoked and the men will go back to the store as originally.

Escape in a Taxi

The navy authorities and the police at New York and other places are hot after three prisoners and a guard who made a novel get away at that yard a few days ago. The guard in charge of four men were working near the Clinton avenue gate which is in charge of a civilian when a taxi suddenly appeared and the guard with three of the prisoners jumped in and were soon on their way. The fourth man refused to go and hurried to pick up the gun of the sentry which he handed over to an officer. The officers of the yard are satisfied that the game was all prearranged and that a money transaction took place in favor of the marine guard who went with the men.

Another Try at the Bids

The second lot of bids for the construction of the railroad and highway bridge from the navy yard to Kittery will be opened at Washington on January 4. The former proposals for this work were rejected nearly a year ago.

What They Think and Say

Regarding the bowling contest between the Accounting team and the Machinery last night we heard the following today:

Manager Hett said: "We are satisfied with our work in last evening's match. The champions are a game aggregation, as they showed by their remarkable come-back performance of last evening. The team we have this season should average about 1300 in every match, and I am confident they will just about do this from now until the end of the season. The Machinery team rolled well enough to beat any other team in the league last night, but their good work was wasted as we were hitting the pins in record form. We are just getting into form for the season. It looks like a hard winter."

Mr. A. A. Giggins of the Champion Accounting team:

"I have thought all through the season that the team was capable of rolling in better form than they have shown, and it was only a question of time before they came through. We only wish the record string could have been against some other team, but we all feel that we can put up 1300 if necessary and we certainly should have reached that mark last night. It was tough for Machinery to waste three strings of over 400 each, for their work would probably have taken points from any other team in the league, but we were after the percentage and Machinery had to fail."

Premier Scenic Temple Programme

Program for Wednesday and Thursday.

"The Water Right War"—Kalem. Two men quarrel over a line fence and a valuable water right. A pitched battle takes place, and it looks like war to the death; but a woman steps in and changes the situation materially.

"Ranch Mates"—Lubin. A western story of unusual strength.

Song, "The Ghost of the Violin" Miss Doris Wood.

"The Servant Problem"—Vitagraph. Mr. Bullington succeeds in running the house with the aid of a servant and her three children. The drollest comedy ever portrayed.

"Tim"—Edison. A wonderful delineation of character and a superb example of photography.

Song, "Come Along to Honey-moon Land."

Miss Doris Wood.

"The Triangle"—Selig. An up-to-date story of intense human interest based on the problem of the internal three.

"The Toyville Eye"—Edison. Here is a comedy that rises far above the ordinary. How Old Scotty in the absence of his chief, sought to make the Toyville Eye, a real live newspaper.

Matinee 2.30, Evening 7.00. Saturday evening 6.30.

PORTSMOUTH THEATRE PROGRAMME

Program for Wednesday and Thursday, except vaudeville, which changes Thursday.

A Struggle of Hearts—Lubin. A story of an escaped convict. A struggle between love and honor.

Song—Rag Time Soldier Man.

Mr. Henderson.

Up Against It—Cines. How he hired a taxi and could not pay the bill, so he has a lawyer and gives him the "dirt," so he will have to pay it. A nice comedy.

Act—Cynthia Adams—Singing Comedian.

The Scheme—Essanay. Showing how a disguised daughter gets into a duel with her father. This is a funny picture.

Act—Charles Backus & Co., in "Templing the Son."

A Noble Profession—Edison. The story that runs through this film is one of a young woman who is suddenly thrown upon her own resources to make her living. Taken on Blackwell Island, New York.

Song—Way Down South.

Mr. Henderson.

Western Girls—Essanay. How two brave western girls capture two daring bandits that have held up a stage coach. A great drama.

Matinee 2.15, evening 7.00; Saturday evening, 6.45.

Do you know that Edwards & Dickey are equipped to do general machine work? Inspect their plant on Vaughan street.

P'S ARE AWARDED FOOTBALL SQUAD

Mugridge Elected Captain of 1913 Team.

At the meeting of the Portsmouth High School Athletic association "P's" were given to the following members of the football squad: Capt. Raymond Fullam, '13; James Quirk, '13; James Jones, '13; Phillips Badger, '13; Clayton Mugridge, '14; Edward Ewen, '14; Lemuel Pope, '14; Frederick Griffin, '14; Arthur Davis, '16 and Alfred Richardson, '16. The "P" men then met and elected Clayton "Bennie" Mugridge captain of the eleven for 1913.

During the season the team won four games and lost six, a creditable showing considering the handicaps.

Treasurer Thayer made his report and it showed a surplus of $80 in the treasury. Of this sum $50 was appropriated for the hiring of a baseball coach and $15 for the girls' basketball fund. The football players also receive $15 as a part of the $50 which is paid for the sweaters.
